The death of Arie Friedmann-Levov at the age of 71, one of the feeding musical pedagogues in the country, occurred in Haifa on Saturday night. The funeral will leave from the Institute of Music, 21 Rebov Besslel, at one o'dook this afternoon.

Friedmann-Levov was born in Vitelusk, Russia and studied at the St. Petersburg conservatoirs. He became a singer and joined the Russian opers. Very early he turned his attention to Jewish popular songs and gave concerts to Jewish audiences in Russia and the Ukraine together with the composer Joel Engel. He was the first to include Hebrew songs in his repertoire.

The deceased came to Palustine in 1921 when he became one of the founders of the first Hebrew Opers. He settled in Haifa, and in 1930 jointly with Mrs. Julia Welmann founded the Haifa Institute of Music of which he was the director for many years. He is survived by his wife, who is a sister of Mr. David Ben-Gunion,

Film Censorship

Divergent views on film censorship were voiced at a round-table discussion broadcast by Kol Yiarsol last night.

Mr. S. Yeshaya, Assistant Director General of the Ministry of Interior, and Chairman of the Film Censorship Board etcressed the need for controls, pointing out that as the cheman had great influence on the public the authorities must possess the right to prevent possible harm.

Ha pointed out that 20 million visits were paid to the clearns in Israel avery year. There were sentenced to long prison terms here today on charges arising from the axe murder of a monk, Tsitsaria, in order to win the favours of the latter's mistress, an attractive 37-year-old mun.

The nun, Sofronia Mathioodatic in his cell, when the murder was carried out by the Abbot's in his cell, when the murder was carried out by the Abbot's force in who had tired of Talleria.

Mr. S. Grinwald, Chairman of the Israel Association of the Israel Association of Distributors of American Films, urged changes in the Mandatory fill m consorship regulations which he regarded as outdated He proposed that the Censorship Board should state in advance the kind of films considered unsuitable.

Mr. R. Rabinson, a film critic proposed that any picture that the consorship board should state in advance the kind of films considered unsuitable.

For Cairo Victims BEERSHEBA Sunday. — A memorial service for Moshe Marsouk and Shmuel Azzar was held in the Great Synagogue here tonight. It was attended by Azzar's relatives from Tel Aviv, Haifa and Beersheba, and by delegations of the Egyptian Immigrants' Association from Tel Aviv and this town. In Haifa, some 500 members of the Youth Council held a memorial assembly at the May Cinema. The Haifa Youth orchestra played solemn music and a youth representative and Labour Council Secretary Y. Almogi gpoke. Faculty and students of the Hebrew University suspended lectures for an hour h mourning for the victims. Azzar's sister and cousin were present at a memorial meeting held in the evening at Belt Brenner in Tol Aviv. The dead were suicqued by Dr. B. Frymer, head of the Cultural Department of the local Labour Council; Mr. S. Cohen-Zidon, of the Egyptian Immigrants Association; Mr. A. Ankorion, of Mapam. Seeking Staff? by to lead Egypt out of its brutish medievalism.

But the fact remains as President Tito has pictured it. The dispute between the Arab League countries and Israel is a standing danger to the peace of the whole area, and its prolongation is none of Israel's seeking. Can it be that President Tito's nariety is a reflection of what the smaller M editerrane a powers really feel about a Western policy which patently disturbs the balance of power and increases the possibilities of an explosion? It is difficult to convince those Mediterranean peoples who may be directly involved that it is good strategy to try to win Arab goodwill by gorsing them full of weapons so that subsequently they may be in mood to sit down and talk peace.

If the Arabs cannot be persuaded to make any perceptible move towards a settlement then at least measures should be concerted to guarantee Israel's security and give her the means of defending it.
